This month in the toddler class

Hello September . Over the past two weeks we have slowly settled our toddlers into their new morning and afternoon routines .

Our next themes will be friendship where we will explore the values of friendship and Apples where we will explore , experiment and create using apples .

We will be celebrating yoga month this month please be on the look out for our yoga poses .

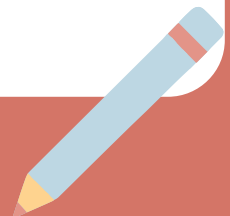

We look forward to another exciting month ahead .

Drop off tip !

*Keep your drop off brief and consistent every time . This gives your child the confidence to come into school .

*Encourage independence . Our class is designed for your little one to discover independence . Let it flow between home and school , have you child walk into school, carry their bag , and help with simple activities like feeding themselves and packing away .
